

Early Onset Preeclampsia

The odds are greater than you think:

What early onset preeclampsia screening could mean for you and your patients.

NTD cordially invites you to participate in a web conference

Thursday, February 23, 12:00–1:00pm EST

Learning objectives:

- Review the definition and etiology of preeclampsia, and methods of preeclampsia screening
- Learn about recent research and publications in the field of screening and prevention of preeclampsia
- Hear from Jiri Sonek, MD, chairman of the board for the Fetal Medicine Foundation USA, and Terrence Hallahan, PhD, laboratory director of NTD Labs
- Engage in a Q&A with both presenters

*The webinar will be recorded and available online.

About the Presenter

Dr. Jiri Sonek is president and chairman of the board for the Fetal Medicine Foundation USA. He also serves as the medical director of the Center for Maternal-Fetal Medicine, Ultrasound and Genetics at Miami Valley Hospital and is a clinical professor at Wright State University in Ohio.
